L.D.O.S. AND ALL THAT

The reason that no money has been taken at the entrances today is that the recent enforcement of the archaic Sunday Observance Act of 1780 prevents us from making any admission charge.

Although all officials voluntarily give their services, it nevertheless costs a great deal of money to promote these events. Expenses such as those for hire of ground, equipment, printing, insurance and prize money to help towards the upkeep of riders' machines, along with other costs, reach a considerable figure.

As certain members of the Sunday Observance Society have in some parts of the country threatened to insist on legal proceedings being taken if the clauses of the antiquated Act are violated, it is now entirely upon your voluntary financial support that the continuation of these events depend.
