International Ken Hall Trophy Moto Cross

Since the inauguration of the Ken Hall Trophy meeting it is one of just a handful of events that have grown and grown as opposed to disappearing into obscurity.

Today is the 16th annual meeting to be held in memory of the now legendary Ken Hall. Ken, who lived nearby to this very course, in the village of Stroud, would we know be proud to see the class of riders and their skills that will be displayed here.

Over a period of fifteen years, Ken Hall's forceful riding and likeable manner was stamped indelibly on the Southern Centre scrambles. In 1954 he won the coveted St. Paul Trophy event and in the following year he was to take third place only to the Rickman brothers in the Southern Centre Scramble Star series.

Although remembered for riding mainly BSA machines during the Fifties, he did also receive support from the Ariel and Royal Enfield factories. After a scrambling accident on the Midgham course at South Newbury in 1960 he made a comeback five years later — this time as a grass track rider. It was whilst riding in a grass track meeting near Salisbury that Ken was to receive fatal injuries.

Although the technology of modern moto-cross machinery seems to proceed unheeded and the skill of today's riders have to keep pace with it, as a club, Waterloooville Motor Cycle Club consider it an honour that so many of the World's top riders wish to come to Langrish for this our major annual event. Today we can see not only our own top riders like Graham Noyce, whose home is at Fair Oak near Southampton, and who only recently just missed the 1981 World title, Neil Hudson, the newly-crowned 250cc World Champion, previous winner, Steven Beamish, but riders from abroad like Gerard Rond (Holland) who was last year's winner, Harry Everts (Belgium) and Jean-Jacques Bruno from France.

The course that you see today has been gradually improved since the running of the first event to keep in line with the demands of the current motocross machines but without sacrificing what is, without doubt, one of the best spectator viewing circuits in the country. As you can see it also has a spectacular view itself when looking along the South Downs.

Mr. George Lambert, the owner of Manor Farm, has once again kindly loaned us his valuable land for today's meeting. This event has only ever been run on this circuit as we hope it will for years to come. We are sincerely indebted to the Lambert families and thank them sincerely.

Today is about skill, preparation, hours of planning and techniques by the riders but let it all aim towards enjoyment — the main intention.

The name of Ken Hall will we trust be immortal.

Please have a very enjoyable day and do try to return next year.

MALCOLM R. WELLS.
