A.C.U. BENEVOLENT FUND

What is it ? What does it do ?

The sole reason for the Fund is to relieve hardship. If to-day —any working day—the A.C.U. receives details of a family which is up against it financially, the breadwinner, say, having been incapacitated, money in the form of notes will be on its way to that family this afternoon. What the Fund seeks to do is to help speedily and effectively and, where a need persists, to continue helping.

It is not an insurance scheme, with "rights," "claims," and "benefits," but a means whereby motor-cyclists assist their fellows, and those who depend on them, when for one reason or another, there is not sufficient money in hand to meet inevitable outgoings.

It is not only those who have been injured whilst participating in some motor-cycle event who receive help. Quite a number of appeals dealt with by the Administrative Committee are in respect of some illness or accident entirely disconnected with motor-cycling. If you were for instance to fall off a roof and an appeal was made on the Fund, this would create no precedent for the Administrative Committee.

In the sad event of the death of a member, the Fund can quickly come to the aid of any dependants. Many are the letters of heartfelt thanks which have been received from such recipients of speedy assistance. One of the features of the Fund is the short space of time between the receipt of an appeal and the despatch of the answer and help. The Emergency Committee is empowered to act instantly where it is known that time is vital.

May we therefore say without contradiction that a scheme such as this is worthy of our fullest support, and it is by the organisation of Events such as you are attending this afternoon, the whole of the proceeds being donated to the Benevolent Fund, that its continuity and good work can be assured.
