Nerve-racking National

Today's meeting could provide us with the most exciting road-racing ever seen at Lydden. Way back in the mid-seventies riders of the calibre of Dave Potter, Barry Ditchburn, Dave Croxford and Pat Mahoney used to make an annual visit for the Lord of Lydden event, but since that time there has been no-one to challenge the Lydden regulars.

Certainly, we have witnessed some exciting ACU Clubmans rounds in the meantime, but of course the competitors were up-and-coming stars of the future rather than the top riders of the day. This is the first ACU National championship round to be held here, and never before has such an array of talented riders gathered at Lydden.

Tim Bourne, Gary Weston, Dave Redgate, Tom Knight and James Bunton always give good value here, and it is true to say that between them Bourne and Weston have won nearly all of Lydden's major meetings in recent years. How will they fare against riders such as Mark Linscott who has already clinched the TT Formula One National championship, John Reynolds who won the European championship round at Donington, and Steve Hislop? Who can tell? There is no doubt that Gary has often amazed everyone with his speed on the 600cc Yamaha, and Tim received universal acclaim when he led Terry Rymer, Trevor Nation and Steve Spray for several laps at a recent Shell Supercup round. In fact, Tim wore through a set of boots at that particular meeting, and one of the spectators was so impressed by his performance that he bought him a new pair.

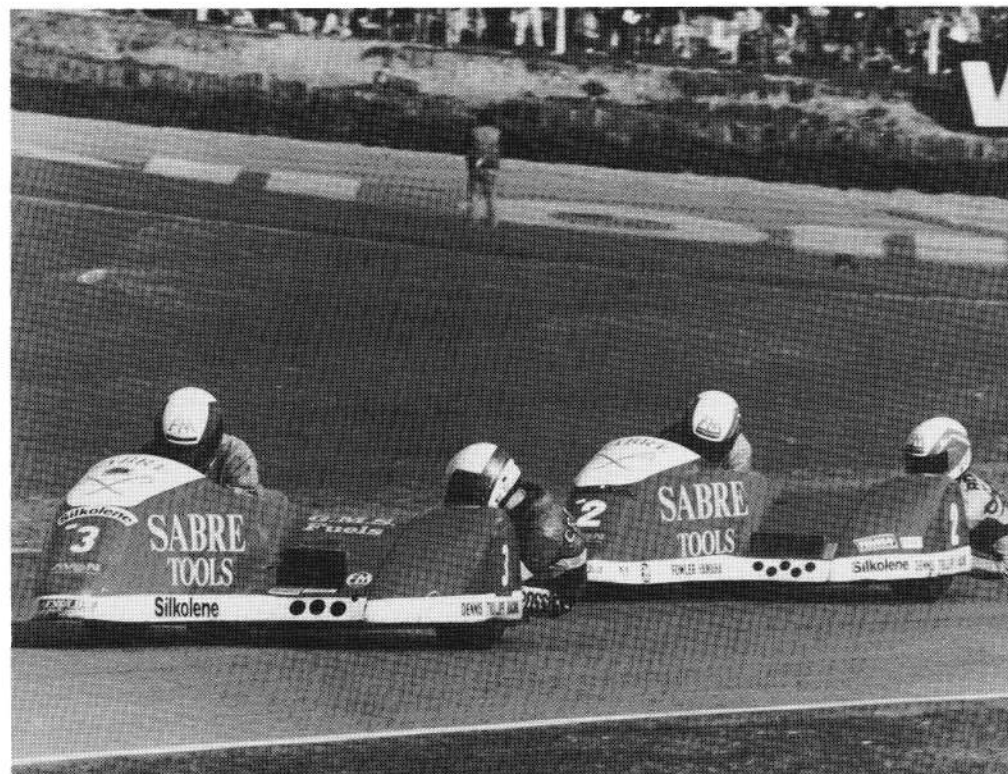

There should be a tremendous tussle in the smaller classes as well. Rob Orme has already won the 125cc series and he is currently runner-up to Mark Barker in the 250cc championship. During the previous round at Brands Hatch Orme had to break the lap record to keep Barker back in second place. Watch out for one local rider in particular, Adrian Butcher from the David Brown team, who was very impressive here earlier this year.

Derek Brindley/Nick Roche will be keen to improve on their fourth position in the Open Sidecar class, and in the F2 category the three top pairings, Dave Saville/Paul Hutchinson, John Brindley/Chris Jones and Richard Nelson/Mark Camp will be continuing their battle.

The Dave Burford Memorial Trophy race will feature all the top solo stars and should make a thrilling grande finale.
