Great Britons!

Last year, in the European Touring Car Championship, the all-powerful Bastos Rovers were outright winners in seven out of the 14 races.

At Donington Park, in the same series, they stormed home to pick up 1st, 2nd and 3rd places.

And, at Silverstone, 1st and 2nd places fell yet again to Rover. In 1985, the phenomenal MG Metro 6 R4's burst onto the rally scene.

With top speed of 150 mph and 0-60 mph in around 3 seconds it is no wonder that already in 1986 the small wonder took first place on the Circuit of Ireland International Rally. As further proof of Austin Rover's domination of the Motorsport scene, 1986 sees the introduction of the MG Maestro Challenge Series and the continuation of the MG Metro Challenge Series. Good news for you. Great news for Britain. Watch us motoring in 1986.

BRITISH MOTORCYCLE CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS MEETING

1986 has been a big year for Shell Oils Motor Sport, for in addition to supporting motorcycle teams and individuals with Shell products, sponsorship of events has included the Transatlantic Challenge, various club championships and the British Motorcycle Grand Prix here at Silverstone less than two months ago.

It is fitting therefore that the season long ACU Star and British Championships culminate this weekend again at Silverstone and again with Shell Oils sponsorship where young and perhaps some not so young riders can measure themselves on a G.P. circuit against their peers.

Both the motorcycle industry and motorcycle sport are experiencing difficulties at the present time. But for this weekend let us forget the problems and hope for a feast of good, close and sportsmanlike racing.

At Silverstone we are fortunate that the organisation and facilities arguably are the best in the world. Permanent buildings and medical rooms, an impressive TV track monitoring system, all staffed by the volunteer doctors and medical assistants, who with the well trained officials and marshals make certain that nothing is left to chance so that we may all benefit from their skills.

Teams, rider, mechanics, bikes and officials are all here and over the two days we've got 17 races and on behalf of all in Shell Oils, I thank all the workers for helping put on such a good programme and a special thank you to the directors of Silverstone for giving us the opportunity to be involved.

Grand Prix stars back home for domestic championship finals

BURNETT CELEBRATES, OTHERS BATTLE

by Nick Harris

The final rounds of the Shell Oils ACU British Transnational Championships not only provide an exciting climax to the championship season but will give spectators the chance to see our own grand prix stars in action.

The likes of Steve Webster and Tony Hewitt, the Silverstone Armstrong duo of Niall Mackenzie and Donnie McLeod and Rothmans Honda Britain star Roger Burnett have been battling with the best in the world all year and the experience they've gained is clearly reflected in their Championship positions.

Twenty six year old Burnett has already clinched the 1300cc title after winning the last two rounds at Thruxton on his RS500 Honda a couple of weeks ago. Just three points separate Mackenzie and McLeod at the top of the 250 table while Webster looks certain to retain the sidecar title just a week before his nail biting final world championship confrontation at Hockenheim in West Germany.

The only people to give Burnett a hard time at the head of the table have been his own team-mate, five times British Champion Roger Marshall, and Mackenzie riding the 350cc Silverstone Armstrong. Sadly the 25 year old Scotsman's challenge faded when he broke his leg at Cadwell Park in April. Incredibly despite his long lay off until the Donington meeting at the end of June he managed to hang onto his lead in the 250 championship. He returned to the 500 class at Thruxton armed with the grand prix Skoal Bandit Heron Suzuki and despite being beaten by Burnett is still fourth in the championship behind Marshall and the impressive privateer Trevor Nation.

Roger Burnett clinched the Shell Oils British Transnational with a brace of victories on the 500cc Rothmans Honda at Thruxton.

Roger Marshall relinquished his British title to Rothmans Honda team-mate Burnett but is keen to prove a point in the final round.

With just four grands prix appearances this season Burnett's top priority was to capture the British title in only his second season with the Rothmans Honda Britain team.

"I put the championship as my number one priority this season and so of course I'm delighted to win it," said Roger after winning at Thruxton. "I see my career progressing in stages and winning this is a very important step because next year I hope to do a full season of grand prix racing. My own team-mate Roger Marshall has given me a hard time on the track but has always offered advice and encouragement off it. He is a great guy and it cannot be easy for him to coach first Wayne Gardner and then me to British and hopefully world championship success. He continued "Niall Mackenzie has also ridden very well and I think it's great for Shell and the championship that both of their champions, if Niall wins the 250, could be battling in the grands prix next year."

The pace this weekend round the full grand prix circuit promises to be fast and furious, especially if it remains dry, with a bevy of riders trying to knock Burnett off that championship perch.

Despite giving Burnett, his former mechanic all the advice his vast experience merits, 35 year old Marshall, who won both 1300 and Formula One British titles last season, will be flat out to beat him in the final two rounds while behind them the battle is hotting up for leading positions.

Trevor Nation is regarded by many experts as the best non works rider in Britain and although he's established himself on four-stroke machinery he lies third in the table with 99 points riding the RG500 Suzuki that gave him so many problems last season. The Wiltshire rider has worked hard with his sponsors New Garage, Salisbury, to iron out those problems and it's paid dividends. Twenty-five year old Trevor is always mentioned when candidates for the works teams are being considered but so far, despite a couple of rides for Suzuki, he's never been invited to join the works club. If he holds onto third place in the championship coupled with his TT and other results surely it will not be long before he gets his big chance. Mackenzie with his second and third places at Thruxton took over fourth place from Ulsterman Neil Robinson by just two points. However, at the time of going to press, Mackenzie is not entered in the 1300cc class in order that he can concentrate his considerable talent defending his 250cc crown although he may have a change of heart.

Donnie McLeod is set for a real battle with Silverstone Armstrong team-mate Niall Mackenzie in the race for the Shell Oils 250cc British Championship.

Other riders to win championship rounds include the very impressive 25 year old Kenny Irons from Luton. Despite a bad crash at the Dutch TT the former British 250 and Yamaha Pro/Am Champion has had a marvellous season, especially on the 750cc four-stroke Locite Yamaha. He won the 12th round at Donington on his Luton Insulation Services RG500 Suzuki and certainly goes well round the Silverstone Grand Prix circuit as his eighth place in the Shell Oils British Grand Prix will verify.

The big surprise of the championship came at Oulton Park at the fifth and sixth rounds at the end of March. In appalling conditions former production racing ace Howard Selby rode brilliantly to win the sixth round on his RG500 Suzuki and finish second behind Mackenzie, who'd already won the third round at Brands three days earlier.

The other big shock came at Donington at the ninth round when New Zealander Richard Scott fought off Irons and the two Rothmans Hondas to win on his 750cc RVF four-stroke Honda.

Throw in all these winners plus riders of the calibre of Steve Henshaw, Mark Phillips, Garry Lingham, Alan Jeffery, Ray Swann and Paul Iddon and it is easy to see that champion Burnett will have to be at his very best to win the two final rounds of the championship which he has dominated.

Silverstone could not be a more apt venue for the final two rounds of the exciting 250cc class with their two sponsored riders slogging it out for the title.

All season, on their Rotax powered Armstrong machines with the sponsorship of the Silverstone circuit, the two Scots Mackenzie and McLeod have been going at it hammer and tongs in between some brilliant grand prix performances. Just three points separate them with Mackenzie holding the advantage despite missing just two rounds because of his broken leg. Their roles have been reversed in the grands prix with 31 year old McLeod finishing tenth in the world championship with a brilliant second place in Belgium and fourth in Holland the highlight of his season.

He's often been in the shadow of the very talented Mackenzie in Britain but he's determined to win back the British Championship crown he lost to his team-mate and good friend last year.

There also promises an equally exciting battle for third place between the Hondas of Kevin Mitchell and Darren Dixon and the on form Nigel Bosworth on his Yamaha.

The experienced Mitchell and Dixon, the 23 year old from Folkstone in Kent, have been fighting it out all season but Midlander Bosworth is coming with a late spurt following his brilliant victory in the 18th round at Thruxton. He fought off the challenge of McLeod, Mackenzie and former European Champion Gary Noel riding the EMC. He also won the eighth round at Brands and will give the Hondas a hard time round the wide Silverstone curves. Unfortunately both Carl Fogarty and Andy Watts miss the meeting because of injury but with Ian Newton, Rob Orme, Gary Noel and the experienced Tony Head doing battle the sparks will fly not only in the race between the two very determined Scotsmen chasing their championship dream.

Steve Webster and Tony Hewitt could be forgiven for having their thoughts centred on the final round of the world sidecar championship seven days later than on the seemingly easy task of retaining their hard won British title. They lead their grand prix rivals Derek Bayley and Bryan Nixon, riding their LCR Yamaha, by 24 points after winning the last two rounds at Thruxton in brilliant style. Twenty six year old Steve and 34 year old Tony still have a real chance of making it a British and world championship double.

After finishing second in the Shell Oils British Grand Prix to World Champions Egbert Streuer and Bernard Schneiders in a brilliant race at Silverstone they led the world championship. Mechanical problems kept them out of the points in the penultimate round in Sweden and they trail championship leader Alain Michel by just eight points going into the final round at Hockenheim next Sunday.

Bayley and Nixon are also in great form with two second places at Thruxton coming just a couple of weeks after their first ever grand prix rostrum placing when they finished third in Sweden. Although Webster looks favourite to retain his title you only have to look at his luck in the Swedish Grand Prix to realise just how quickly positions can change.

Steve Abbott is 14 points adrift of Bayley in third place and he's reunited with passenger Shaun Smith who missed half the season with injury. The experienced Vince Biggs did a superb job in his absence. Would you believe a Japanese pair Yoshisada Kumagaya and Kazuhiro Makiuchi hold fourth place in a British Championship.

The friendly pair hold ACU licenses and are eligible to compete in the British Championships which they have done to good effect. Also they have been in brilliant form in the European Championships and won the round at the Dutch TT at Assen.

Sidecar racing is always fast and furious at Silverstone and this weekend should be no exception with Frank Wrathall, Dave Hallam,

Lowry Burton, Mick Boddice and Clive Stirrat all trying to give Webster plenty more to think about than Hockenheim in a week's time. The final British championship to be decided belongs to the 125's with a number of young riders chasing the three round title.

Midlander Steve Mason leads the way with 19 points but with 30 points up for grabs in the two races the outcome is wide open.

Any number of riders including grand prix competitor Rob Milton, Doncaster based Garry Dickenson and Garry Buckle are in with a great chance in the most open British Championship class of the weekend.

Steve Webster and Tony Hewitt lead the way in the Shell Oils Sidecar British Championship - victory today would also give them the big confidence booster they need for that World Championship show-down next weekend.

ACU Star Series reaches that final decisive stage

WINNER TAKES ALL

by Nick Harris

There is certainly nothing Cinderella about the final round of the Star UK Championships with all seven classes still to be decided in what promises to be a hectic weekend.

Incredibly every round of the 1300cc class has been won by a different rider and so it would take a brave punter to forecast the result of the ten lap finale on Sunday. The title is between two riders both with a racing pedigree. Mike Lomas, whose father, Bill, won the 350 world championship in 1955 and 56, leads the chase by six points from John Brindley whose father Derek (Fred) was a well known sidecar competitor. Suzuki mounted Lomas won the Donington round with Brindley, riding a Yamaha, winning at Carnaby. The other rounds have been won by John Swinger, Trevor Nation, Ricky McMillan, Mark Phillips, Kenny Irons and Alan Jeffrey and although Brindley won the 350 Marlboro Clubmans Championship here four years ago there is certain to be a grandstand finish for the title between the two riders who probably will not win the race.

Last year Mark Westmorland won the 350 Championship on his Yamaha but on Sunday the title will be fought out between two Midland riders. Coventry's Chris Galatowicz and Martin Bennett from Burton on Trent have been going hammer and tongs on their Yamahas with Galatowicz just holding the advantage. However, in similar style to the other classes there are a bevy of potential winners including Steve Patrickson, Paul Simmons, Westmorland and Steve Hislop.

The experienced Kevin Mitchell is favourite to take the 250 title on his Honda although once again there are a number of riders who would have cause to disagree. Mark Barker, in an impressive first national season is second, with Andy Godber and Nigel Bosworth still mathematically in with a chance of stealing the crown.

The likeable Jamie Whitham holds a seven point lead going into Saturday's 125 race over Doncaster's Garry Dickinson who had an 11 point lead at one stage. Whitham then produced four straight wins on his MBA to take the lead and must be favourite for the title.

Never was the close competition in the championships better illustrated than in the 80cc class with Whitham and Steve Lawton sharing the lead on 72 points. Whitham rides the British built Wicks with Lawson on the Eberhardt which has proved a problem to start. Veteran Dennis Batchelor will be another to watch together with Yorkshireman Steve Dale who's still in with a championship chance.

Sidecars are split into two classes with Kenny Howles and Steve Pointer leading the 1300cc class after five successive second places have given them a nine point advantage. Kieron Kavanagh, with that well known forceful style, is second and is the only other rider capable of taking the championship although the likes of Neil Smith, Matthew Nelson, Stuart Applegate and Bellas are bound to make it tough for the two leaders.

The closest fought race of the whole weekend could easily come from the evenly matched Formula Two, 350cc sidecar outfits. Andre Witherington leads his clubmate Dave Saville by just two points in a nail biting climax to a superb championship of close finishes. Although the title can only be won by those two Eddy Wright, Colin Hopper, Keith Galtress and Martin Whittington are determined to make it yet another explosive finish.

Chris Galatowicz leads the 350cc Star Championship.
